Life & Death

- What does the ideal life look like?
- What does it mean to die well?
- What is the purpose of a human life?
- If sacrificing your own life would save the lives of a specific number of strangers, how many strangers would need to be saved for you to sacrifice your own life? What if the people were friends? How about family?
- If you died today, how would you be remembered?
- Are some lives more valuable than others?
- How would you like to die? Comfortably in bed surrounded by family, doing something you love, or some other way?
- Who do you know who is living life to the fullest?
- If you were given an envelope with the time and date of your death inside, would you open it?
- What is a year of life worth? How about a day?
- If you died today, what regrets would you have about your life?
- Is taking a life ever justified? If so, where is the line? When is a person's life considered forfeit (pozbyť nároku na život)?

Future of the Human Race

- What do you think about the singularity (jedinečnosť, osobitý rys)? The idea that eventually artificial intelligence will advance to the point where computers are more intelligent than humans.
- What are the pros and cons of colonizing other planets? How could this help or hurt the human race?
- What is most likely to bring about the extinction of the human race? How can it be avoided?
- Will humans as a species ever be able to work together as a whole to achieve a goal? What is holding humans back from working together on a global scale?
- Will humanity continue to advance technologically or will we fall back to how we lived for thousands of years or fall back further to how we lived for a hundred thousand years ago?
- What would be the best possible scenario for how the world will develop in the next 25 years? What do we need to do to get there?
